Revelers at last year's Ball

Come as you aren't to the Masquerade Party

The coolest party in town just got hot!

TICKETS WILL BE on sale at the door for the Masquerade Party, 8 p.m. to midnight, Friday, October 26, at the Gettysburg Hotel Ballroom. Enjoy the funky fun and smooth sounds of The Eddie Bruce Band, one of Philadelphia's premier party bands, plus the ever-popular Costume Contest, a huge Silent Auction, prizes and surprises you've come to expect at the best party of the year.

This year's event features entertainment from an incredibly versatile 12-member pop-rock-funk tableaux from Philadelphia. The Eddie Bruce Band, appearing courtesy of Jennifer LeVan, has performed at the Ritz Carlton, Four Seasons, in New York City at 88's, and has played New Year's Eve for the past 17 years at Bally's Park Place. Multiple vocalists tackle everybody from Aretha Franklin to Frank Sinatra, Evanesence to Carrie Underwood, Usher to Billy Joel.

Co-chairs Holly Purdy and Wendy Heiges and committee bring back the best bonuses of the party: wildly inventive costumes, Tarot readings by Dana Eynon and Amanda Kunkel, and photos by Nanette Hatzes. For the Silent Auction they've gathered dinner for eight at the LeVans, a week at Bethany Beach, artwork, photography, collectibles, getaways, spa packages at Hershey and Felicita, dinner at the Antrim Inn, Winery tour, Majestic tickets, and more.

The pre-party dinner provides patrons with a cocktail reception sponsored by Just Jennifer, live jazz from Tom Colgan, Italian buffet with carving station, auction preview, and reserved seats.

We thank the following sponsors (as of October 1): L&H Mechanical and Electrical Services; Battlefield Harley-Davidson; Times & News Publishing; Helicopter Applicators Inc.; Carl E. Frantz, Inc.; Beauchat & Beauchat, LLC, Wendy Weikal-Beauchat, Esq.; Wendy Heiges/Gehman & Co.; John and Tonya White; The Monahan Family; Wyndham Gettysburg; Herr Tavern & Publick House; Oscar F. and Barbara Spicer; Hockley & O'Donnell Insurance Agency; Holly Purdy, Realtor, Coldwell Banker Bob Yost-Sites; Gettysburg Dance Center; Gettysburg Glass; Henry O. Heiser III, Attorney-at-Law; Betty Timmins; Community Benefits Real Estate; and Zavos Architecture & Design.

Tickets are on sale now at our office or www.adamsarts.org at $75 for Dinner and Party, $35 for reserved seats, $300 for a table of 10, and $25 for general admission. Proceeds support the Arts Council's mission of cultivating an arts-rich community.

EXPRESSIONS is a quarterly publication of the Adams County Arts Council, 18 Carlisle Street, Suite 201, Gettysburg, PA 17325; Patrice Smith, editor. If you are not receiving your newsletter, are receiving duplicate mailings, if your name is misspelled, your address incorrect, or if you would like to be removed from our mailing list, please call us at (717) 334-5006. ACAC is a nonprofit charitable organization; contributions are tax-deductible as allowed by law. A copy of the official registration and financial information may be obtained from the Pennsylvania Department of State by calling toll-free within Pennsylvania 1 (800) 732-0999. Registration does not imply endorsement. The mission of the Adams County Arts Council is to cultivate an arts-rich community. Board members are Betty Snyder, President; Holly Purdy, Vice President; Mel Shull, Treasurer; Brenda Wiley, Secretary; Matthew Battersby, Judie Butterfield, Andrew Dreves, Wendy Spicer Heiges, Stuart Kravits, Larry Musselman, Aimee Pack, Mary Margaret Stewart, and Sheila Supenski. Christina Glatfelter, Executive Director; Judy Marti, Arts in Education Coordinator; Nora Ivey, Office Manager; Suzannah Miles, Administrative Assistant. The ACAC office is open daily from 9 A.M. until 5 P.M.

ACAC's Arts in Education program, Roots & Wings—Arts for the Ages, is supported by a grant from the Robert C. Hoffman Charitable Endowment Trust.

Partial funding for expressions is provided by the Pennsylvania Partners in the Arts (PPA), the regional arts funding partnership of the Pennsylvania Council on the Arts, a state agency. State government funding comes through an annual appropriation by Pennsylvania's General Assembly and from the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency. PPA is administered in this region by the Chambersburg Area Council for the Arts.

Alive and well!

IF YOU JOINED us for the ArtStreet festival, the community's contribution to the Governor's Arts Awards celebration, you know why we made room in this edition of expressions for extra photographs. What better way to mark this special occasion than with children creating art, captured by photographers Bert Danielson and Wyatt Copeland.

For nearly two hours before Governor Ed Rendell bestowed his annual awards, hundreds of local students and teachers demonstrated projects like Italian street painting, interactive fabric art, and body sculpture. Bright murals decorated the block. Art teachers from all six county school districts, parochial schools, community agencies, and scout troops brought students or sent art, a tremendous show of support for Pennsylvania's biggest night of the year for the arts. Words can't describe the incredible energy they brought to Carlisle Street! I believe that Governor Rendell and our guests went home knowing that the arts are alive and well in Adams County. My sincere thanks to every ArtStreet participant and the committee who coordinated the event.

At the ceremony, Governor Rendell presented the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania's 2007 Patron of the Arts Award to Jennifer and David LeVan, a most fitting tribute offered in the performing arts center that bears their name. We all recognize what the Majestic Theater means to our community. It was through their exceptional efforts in spearheading its renovation that the Majestic is now Gettysburg's cultural cornerstone. Over the years, you've often seen the LeVan name and their businesses, Battlefield Harley-Davidson and Just Jennifer, in this newsletter. Their tremendous generosity and commitment of time and talent have made a huge impact on our organization. Jen and Dave, congratulations and thank you!

Soon we'll come down from the dizzying high of this special night. The spotlight isn't shining on us now but, with the support of each and every one of you, we'll keep the arts alive and well in Adams County. Please remember the Arts Council as you plan your year-end giving, and thanks for your support throughout the year.

Chris Glatfelter, Executive Director

Additional sponsorships come from the National Trust for Historic Gettysburg, Schmucker Art Gallery of Gettysburg College, and Noelker & Hull Associates, Inc.

Congratulations to all whose work was chosen, and thanks to all area artists who entered the competition and to our generous sponsors.

Touchstone Theatre Ensemble's Christmas City Follies comes to Kline Theater on the Gettysburg College campus on Wednesday, December 19 at 7 p.m. for a free performance.

Magical holiday theater

Touchstone brings stage magic back to Adams

BETHLEHEM, PA — Welcome to "America's Christmas City" —at least that's what Bethlehem proclaimed itself to be in the 1970s, to celebrate its Moravian roots and to boost tourism. Touchstone Theatre's Christmas City Follies takes off on both of these identity claims in a joyful collection of frivolity, such as a shopping card ballet scored to The Nutcracker Suite, and scrappy poignancy, in a homeless man telling the nativity tale with props pulled from his cart.

See Christmas City Follies at Gettysburg College's Kline Theater at 7 p.m. Wednesday, December 19. Admission is free, and seats are first-come, first-served.

Touchstone's appearance is part of our Roots and Wings initiative, ongoing artist-in-residence programs in Adams County schools.

Touchstone performed Don Quixote at the Adams County Heritage Festival and Talisman: The Fairy Tale Life of Hans Christian Anderson at 10 county schools in September and October.

Corporate sponsorship for Touchstone's residency comes from Adams Electric Cooperative, Inc. and Touchstone Energy. Additional sponsors include Citigroup Foundation, the Robert C. Hoffman Charitable Endowment Trust, and Pennsylvania Performing Arts on Tour, a program developed and funded by the Heinz Endowments, the William Penn Foundation, the Pennsylvania Council on the Arts, a state agency, and The Pew Charitable Trusts, and administered by the MidAtlantic Arts Foundation.

STAR grant applications available

APPLICATIONS FOR THE tenth year of STAR grants (Serving The Arts Regionally) are available now at our office or at our web site, www.adamsarts.org. Completed applications are due Thursday, November 1—hand-delivered or post-marked—and awards will be announced in late January 2008.

The grant helps support arts programs which take place in Adams County during 2008. In the past nine years, STAR grants totaling more than $116,500 have been distributed to area schools, arts presenters, and artists. STAR grant funding comes from the Adams County Commissioners, the Borough of Gettysburg, and the Pennsylvania Council on the Arts.

For more information, contact Arts-in-Education Coordinator Judy Marti at aie@adamsarts.org.

Free Fairfield area Studio Tours

FOOTHILLS ARTISTS and Willow Pond Farm welcome all to a Studio Tour and Open House November 3 and 4. Artists and their specialties include Dorothea Barrick, paintings and prints; Erin Brown, whimsical art; Jack Handshaw, reduction-fired porcelain; Nanette Hatzes, paintings, drawings and photography; Betty Roby and students, watercolors and oils; Betsy Tresselt, jewelry; and Sheila Waters, calligraphic art, miniature paintings, and giclée original prints.

All studios are in the immediate Fairfield area, 10 minutes west of Gettysburg.

Pick up a map at Willow Pond Farm, 145 Tract Road, Fairfield. The Studio Tours and Open House will run from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, November 3, and from noon to 5 p.m. Sunday, November 4. For more information, contact Tom Wajda at info@willowpondherbs.com

Artists: Save a bundle!

DICK BLICK Art Materials invites Adams County Arts Council members and guests to a special VIP members-only event from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Friday, November 9 in their Lemoyne store at 836 Market Street. Blick Art Materials will offer a 20% discount on all regularly priced items. Plus, many of their most popular products, such as paints, paper, brushes, and canvas are already on sale. The store will also give a Canson Sketch book to all who attend. Refreshments will be served, and visitors may enter for a chance at a $500 gift card. Take this newsletter with you, as this invitation is offered only to ACAC members, families, and guests.

Call (717) 731-4463 or visit www.dickblick.com for details and driving directions.

See art in literature

DON'T MISS the current exhibition at Gettysburg College's Schmucker Art Gallery, Art of the Gettysburg Review.

The show runs through December 2 in the art gallery on the first floor of Schmucker Hall, Washington Street.

Here's to a super-tuba holiday

MAKE PLANS to be in Downtown Gettysburg on Friday, December 14, for the Gettysburg Tuba Carol Fest. A chorus of tubas will oompah the holiday season beginning at 7 p.m. in the Gettysburg Hotel corner of Lincoln Square. In case of rain, the performance will move to Prince of Peace Episcopal Church, two blocks south on Baltimore Street.

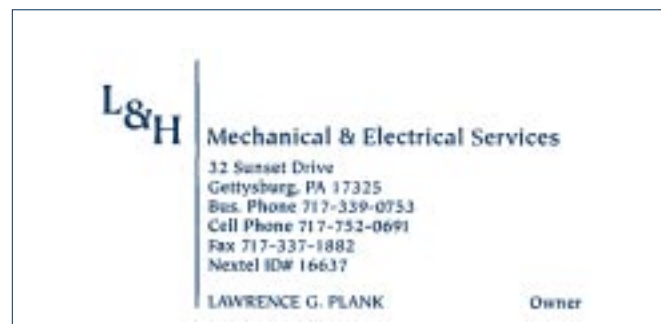

Be on the Square for Auld Lang Syne

COME DOWNTOWN and enjoy Gettysburg's hometown New Year's Eve celebration with free entertainment at various downtown venues, fireworks, and dancing in the streets on Lincoln Square. Once again the Arts Council will help stage the show, which wouldn't happen without financial support from Gettysburg Borough and a blazing display of fireworks courtesy of Adams County National Bank.

Stay current with E-Press

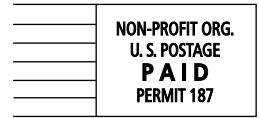

SUZANNAH MILES, ACAC administrative assistant, has created E-Press, a practical way to keep you up-to-date between newsletters on upcoming programs and events from the Arts Council and our members. This email calendar made its debut in late May.

To be sure you receive this monthly message, please confirm with Suzannah at aa@adamsarts.org that we have your correct email address. Also, please let us know when your postal mailing address has changed and save us the expense of returned mail charges.

ADDRESS SERVICE REQUESTED

No place like Gettysburg

This original musical will be a cut above.

THEY DON'T NEED hearts, brains or courage. They need new hair styles! Take a journey down a battlefield road with a hairdresser (Jesse Mills), the Scarecrow (Jeff Myers), the Lion (Darryl Jones), and the Tin Man (Brian Kennell) as they search for the Wizard (Chad Huber) and the Blue Parrot of the Wicked Witch (Holly Giles). Featuring songs from Queen, The Beatles, Aerosmith, ELO, and the B-52's, The Scissors of Oz is a buzz-cut above the average musical.

The Scissors of Oz takes the stage at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, November 23 and 24, at the Eisenhower Inn just south of Gettysburg. Tickets are $20 each or $144 for a table of eight, on sale now at Noteworthy Music, the Blue Parrot Bistro, and the Arts Council office. Make table reservations through Brian Kennell at (717) 334-5133.

This original musical spoof benefits ACAC and the Gettysburg Boys Basketball Program. There's no place like Gettysburg.

Looking to the future

CAREFUL FINANCIAL planning today can help you balance your personal and philanthropic goals.

Please keep the Arts Council in mind when you consider gifts through your will or living trust, securities, life insurance policies, or retirement plan assets.

Contact Executive Director Chris Glatfelter for more information about how your gift can change children's lives.
